Trust and Team Building Activities

Activities, problems to solve and short physical challenges are used as part of a sequence to build teams and challenge people.

Mountain Day

The goal is to reach the top of a mountain within the Tongariro National Park.

Caving

Travel to the local Okupata Caves near Hillary Outdoors to explore the dark and mysterious caverns that will extend comfort zones and encourage teamwork. Problem solving and working together while gathering the resources needed for the afternoon activity.

High Ropes

Students harness up and attach to a rope to climb a challenging element in the high ropes course either solo or as part of a team. Big Swing, Trapeze, Giant Ladder and more. The High Ropes combine team activities and provides an opportunity to extend individuals outside their comfort zone in a supportive environment.

Kayaking

Day or overnight journeys using stable double sea kayaks, with three built-in buoyancy chambers. Students will practice removing their spray skirts before going onto the water. Sit on top, or sit in kayaks may be used for students to learn kayak skills and put these to use on a river or lake journey.

Bush Skill Adventures

Bush skills include things like shelter building and fire lighting. Explore beautiful natural environments of the New Zealand bush and learn to navigate and manage your own adventure.

Overnight Camping

Numerous sites are used, most are a flat section of grass with a natural water supply. Meals are more usually cooked using camping stoves under the supervision of the instructor.

Abseiling and Rock Climbing

Experience the thrill of abseiling, or being lowered at one of many rock, or bush sites. The abseil line is backed up with a safety ensuring students can 'let go' without being at risk. Rock climbing on natural rock sites or one of our artificial walls. Climbs are always undertaken with a top rope, meaning any fall will be caught immediately. Students also learn to belay (manage the ground end of the rope their partner is climbing on) with safety back up.
